Hundreds of runners and walkers are expected to take to the Detroit riverfront Saturday morning in an event to raise money for the city's homeless.

There's a new feature for this year's RiverRun and Walk, sponsored by the Neighborhood Service Organization. It's called "Handlebars for the Homeless," a 13- to 15-mile, non-competitive bike tour.

Hundreds of runners and walkers are expected to take to the Detroit riverfront Saturday morning in an event to raise money for the city's homeless.

The RiverRun and Walk has raised more than $200,000 since 2007.

Some of the city's homeless have been in training to participate in the 3.1-mile run and walk portion of the event.

The event begins on the Detroit RiverWalk at Rivard Plaza.
